Members Refuse to Vote Despite Threat.

BULLETIN.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
LONDON, Oct. 12 (12:30 a. m.)—(Tribune Radio.)—The Berlin correspondent of the London Daily News cables this morning:

"News has just reached me from a reliable source that Great Britain has made a move calculated to give the government of Germany much needed moral support in the present critical moment. A representative of the British ambassador here today notified the foreign office of the British readiness to conclude a special agreement relative to a resumption of work in the Rhineland as it affects the British occupied area, and particularly the railways therein."

BERLIN, Oct. 12.—The reactionaries and radicals blocked the passage of the authorization act in the Reichstag this afternoon by walking out of the session, refusing to vote. With 109 absentees among the ranks of the majority parties who favor the bill, a quorum no longer existed and a postponement was taken until Saturday afternoon, when passage of the law seems certain whether the radicals and blacks walk out or not.
The nationalists took the lead in sabotaging the bill for forty-eight hours when the Reichstag was preparing to vote and when it was apparent that the law would be accepted by a huge majority.
Schuler-Strauss took the platform at today's session and asserted that the German nationalists would not accept a share in the responsibility for the suicide of the Reichstag and for

MERCHANTS BAR FRONTS AS MARK CRASHES TO DOOM

BERLIN, Oct. 11.—[United News.]—With the mad crash of money, terror swept Berlin today.

It was a sight seen—the fear of women who looked upon worthless paper in their hands and felt the touch of Baltic winter winds on the autumn air. Shopkeepers looked at the eyes of the women and saw desperation.

Across the fronts of many shops throughout Berlin merchants hastily erected iron grating, selling goods through a tiny open window in the grill.

Separated by the iron bars, the women and the shopkeepers trade together, looking upon one another fearfully.

Authorized to Act.
Chancellor Stresemann came to the Reichstag at 11 o'clock armed with authority from President Ebert to dissolve the Reichstag if the authorization act was not passed. This fact was quickly circulated among the members of the house, but no official mention was made of it. With this act in the hole, Herr Stresemann felt sure that he would be empowered to take the dictatorship action he deems necessary for the salvation of Germany, when the dramatic coup of the reactionaries and radicals intervened.

After the decision to adjourn, Herr von Grafe, monarchist, rushed to the platform and called Herr Stresemann a vile bluffer for not carrying out his threat to dissolve the Reichstag. He also charged the chancellor with cowardice for not acting. Herr Stresemann replied to the chair for protection against Herr von Grafe's tongue. The chancellor asserted that his obtaining of permission from the president to dissolve parliament was not a threat.

To Vote on Saturday.
Herr Stresemann has no intention of dissolving parliament unless the authorization law is refused Saturday, which is extremely unlikely. The coalition parties have telegraphed all absent members that the session is set for 1 o'clock on Saturday, which gives them plenty of time to arrive in Berlin. With reinforcements there is no doubt

CHANCELLORS TO CONFER

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
VIENNA, Oct. 11.—(Tribune Radio.)—It is officially confirmed that Chancellor Seipel has arranged to meet Chancellor Stresemann at a frontier station in the next few days for a conference at the request of the German chancellor. It is expected the meeting will take place near Salzburg.

Herr Stresemann's request to confer with the Austrian chancellor has two motives—first, to avail himself of Mr. Seipel's experience with the league of nations and to determine the Austrian chancellor's opinion as to the advisability of appealing to the league for a loan, and, second, to obtain counsel on the problem of a foreign loan and the organization of securities.

It is asserted here that the meeting will result in a close agreement between the two chancellors against the monarchist menace in Bavaria, which threatens the very existence of the governments of both Berlin and Vienna. It is pointed out that Herr Stresemann does not need to come all the way to the frontier to find out how Mr. Seipel floated the league loan, as the information is easily available from the Austrian ambassador in Berlin.

WATER WASTE HERE APPALLING, CITY CLUB HEARS

Water wasted daily in Chicago would cover the entire area burned in the great fire of 1871 a foot deep, members of the City club were told yesterday by Commissioner of Public Works A. A. Sprague. The big covered area of 2,134 acres, or three and one-half square miles, all of which could be submerged twenty-five feet under the city's wasted water for a month, he said.

"City-wide installation of water meters will accomplish an estimated saving of $285,000,000 within the next twenty-five years," declared Col. Sprague.

LLOYD GEORGE SAYS U. S. MUST ENTER LEAGUE

BY FRANK PHILLIPS.
Niagara Falls, Ont., Oct. 11.—[By the Associated Press.]—David Lloyd George in an interview with Tam Tamm while en route to Niagara Falls this afternoon frankly reminded the United States of its European obligations.

Mr. Lloyd George said he did not like to impose his views on the United States regarding its foreign relations, but since he had been asked to give them, he would state them as frankly as possible.

In a word, he held, there could be no peace—no enduring peace—until the United States joins the league of nations. He felt that the United States ought to become a signatory to the league and believed that it would do so in the near future.

Prefacing his answers by pointing out that by the treaty of Versailles, the United States had the same obligation as any of the other allies in the fixation of reparations, Mr. Lloyd George emphasized that when the United States failed to ratify this treaty, the whole fabric of reparations was necessarily altered.

The plan of Secretary of State Charles Hughes was simply a reiteration of the former body that centered on reparations before the United States disapproved of the treaty of Versailles.

This treaty, he added, brought the United States into the adjudication of European affairs. It made the United States "the only disinterested party."

Therefore its promise was vital to such a judicial body as the committee that convened to fix reparations. The United States would thus have been the most valuable member of that body.

"It would have been the biggest achievement in the history of the human race if the United States had allied itself with the other English speaking nations in the league of nations," he declared ardently.

"Britain and the United States, of course, are already in agreement to impose peace on the world, but there can never be peace until the United States joins the league of nations. It will have to come. It ought to come. The moment you get it there will be peace. The little nations of Europe are frightened to death. Let Britain and the United States be determined to have peace—and there shall be peace. These two great nations in themselves could impose peace. They would be quite enough. Not a gun would have to be fired, no nation would dare to stand up against this combination—the combination of Great Britain and the United States insisting on a rational peace."

ACCOS BACK; NEW OPERA HONORS ABROAD

Latest Season Nears Here, Prediction.

RICHARD HENRY LITTLE.
The Chicago Polacco (don't forget the name) is an American now, thriving in Chicago opera, and Mrs. Polacco (née Mason; she's always an American) returned to Chicago to give opera yesterday. Also came a native of Pomerania.

The Polaccos had a grand time, but were overjoyed at getting to Chicago. Fairy was more than anyone else who had been in Chicago. Fairy is quite a good reason. Fairy is quite a good reason for a toy Pomeranian, and that in Milan she suffered a shock and considerable humiliation. A Milanese newspaper in La Scala house still carried strong opinions regarding the world war, being a Pomeranian and Pomeranian being in Germany, the Milanese chased Fairy out of the opera house and she was a mouse, the Polacco said it wasn't a mouse, but a great, big, shaggy, nasty rat. While Mr. Polacco had heard at first that it was a mouse, he said, while it was a mouse, the mouse in Milan grew to a prodigious

Both Will Honors Abroad.
How the Polaccos had a wonderful summer. Edith Mason sang "La Scala" in La Scala opera house, she realized one of the darling ambitions of her life. She sang six performances and was impressed by the roughness and care with which she produced on the European stage. "I loved singing in Milan, but it was a strain, too. You are rich at every note, every bit of business, as well as the singers. They are really hard boiled."

Mr. Polacco had the satisfaction of directing the orchestra in Vienna, leaving the distinction of being the foreigner who has ever conducted Wagnerian opera there.

U. S. Absorbs Europe's Best.
The United States is absorbing the best of all the arts of Europe, declared Mr. Polacco. "America is getting the cream of everything. It is willing to pay, the audience are appreciative of the finest, best things in art, and I predict that in the next twenty years this art will advance, in grand opera, at least, as much as Europe has in centuries."

As was an enthusiastic over the La Scala as Miss Mason was, told how proud the humblest citizens of Milan were to pay their tax the support of La Scala. He had with a Milan street cleaner who worked at the opera house and said the greatest pride, "I help give to the world. La Scala is there we common people pay for it."

Mr. Polacco admitted that a grand opera tax was a splendid thing, he trusted Mr. Polacco not speak to Mr. Insull on the subject, said interviewers having just up most of his year's salary to income tax collectors.

No Star System There.
Mr. Polacco promised not to mention, and in answer to the question the La Scala opera company was to reach such a high standard of excellence said that for one thing, it was not burdened with a star system such as exists in America.

Then, too, at La Scala the audience do not demand a great number of new to be given in one season, but one is prepared with the most painstaking attention to detail.

But this season will be the greatest that opera has ever known in Chicago, declared Mr. Polacco. "Vivid beautiful as are my memories of Scala, I expect to see things of at least a Milan standard at the Auditorium this winter."

LAWYERS CLASH IN STOKES TRIAL; COURT IN UPROAR

New York, Oct. 11.—[Special.]—A verbal battle between Samuel Untermyer and Max D. Steuer, opposing counsel in the Stokes divorce trial, threatened to terminate in a fist fight between Mr. Steuer and Stanley M. Richter, Mr. Untermyer's son-in-law, at this afternoon's session of the trial before Supreme Court Justice Jeremiah T. Mahoney and a jury.

The argument occurred after Joseph A. Thornton, Negro witness for W. D. Stokes, had charged that Assistant District Attorney Ferdinand Pecora had told him in March, 1922, that it would be best if he swore falsely about his identification of Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes as the woman he had seen at the Edgar T. Wallace house at 13 East 25th street. Thornton was at the district attorney's office when he was questioned about his testimony at the first trial of the divorce action before Justice Finch two years ago.

Pecora to Be Called.
Sitting at the end of the long table occupied by Mrs. Stokes and her lawyers, Mr. Pecora heard only the end of the Negro's long story of what he alleged transpired in the district attorney's office. Because of the lack of time Mr. Pecora was not picked on the stand to give his version of the occurrence, but will be called on Monday.

Thornton's description of the Pecora incident came at the request of Mr. Untermyer, who was cross-examining the witness about statements he made to Mr. Pecora in March a year ago. At that time, according to the transcript, when confronted with Mrs. Stokes, Thornton had said he made a mistake in identifying her as the woman he had seen with Wallace.

"You have claimed you were treated badly in the district attorney's office," said Mr. Untermyer. "Now tell the jury that story about the district attorney of New York county."

Witness Tells His Story.
Thornton in reply recited at some length the story of his summoning to the district attorney's office, and said he was questioned several hours by two men, who tried to get him to repudiate his identification of Mrs. Stokes, but they finally gave it up as a bad job and took him to Mr. Pecora's office. The witness continued:

"Mr. Pecora said, 'You can say you might be mistaken; that she wasn't the one; that it might have been some one else. There is no need of your getting yourself in trouble for Mr. Stokes. The easiest way is the best way; that you might be mistaken; that she is not the party.'"

"At this point Mr. Pecora said he would bring in Mrs. Stokes for me to identify. I told him he could do what he liked and he called her and she came in."

Subdued in Courtroom.
Mr. Untermyer jumped up and said the district attorney should be addressed.

PARDON APPEALS TO PRESIDENT GROW IN NUMBER AND DENIAL

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—During the last fiscal year, the President acted on 689 pardon cases, an increase of more than 20 per cent over the applications passed on during the previous year, Attorney General Daugherty announced today.

He added that there has been a marked increase in the number of applications for executive clemency during the last few years, but even a greater increase, proportionately, in the number of denials.

Of the 689 cases involving executive clemency, James A. Finch, pardon attorney, department of justice, stated in a detailed report to Mr. Daugherty, 44 per cent were denied. Excluding the pardons granted to restore civil rights—which are granted only after prisoners have completed their sentences—the average of denials last year was 64 per cent, or more than one-half of all the applications.

At the beginning of the fiscal year there were 544 applications for clemency pending. During the year 1,309 applications were filed and eight other applications filed during the current year and other years were reopened and further considered, making a total of 1,661 cases for clemency pending during the year.

vised. "This man should be committed for perjury," he shouted. "So should Mr. Untermyer," yelled Mr. Steuer.

"This is the cheapest thing I've ever witnessed and I'm surprised at you," Mr. Steuer exclaimed. Mr. Untermyer made a retort which was lost in the commotion. Both lawyers cried out and gestured. Justice Mahoney shouted for decorum in his court room and court attendants rapped for order.

Mrs. Lillian Paine, another witness, also colored, did clearing and washing for Wallace in 1917, she said. She saw Mrs. Stokes in the apartment several times, she testified. The defendant, said Mrs. Paine, went into the bedroom with Wallace and closed the door. The day after one of these alleged visits, the witness said she found several gold hairpins in the bed and red hairs in the comb and brush on Wallace's dresser. The witness admitted having called on Mr. Stokes on Wednesday evening and having talked about the case.

Another flame has lighted the bright path of Charles Higgins McNeil, clubman and bon vivant. His third nuptial encounter failed yesterday when the present Mrs. McNeil, the former Hero of a series of court battles during the last decade, now and heir to the $1,600,000 estate of his late father, Malcolm McNeil, head of the wholesale grocery firm of McNeil & Higgins, McNeil this time bore his bonds as a benedict longer than ever before. McNeil succumbed to Miss Williams wife, his wife's bill relates, when she risked leaving him for a short trip to New York. That was in February, 1920, according to the bill, which charges that McNeil took Miss Williams into their home during his wife's absence. Years ago, after his second divorce, McNeil was sued by Miss Elizabeth Moore, a movie actress, for $100,000 damages for breach of promise.

"TENT" AGAIN IS IN CONFLICT WITH THE LAW

Serve Warrant, but the Dancing Goes On.

In their gentlest and most ingratiating manner, Detective Sergeants Dan Barry and Thomas Hayes descended upon "The Tent" last night and informed Charles Weeghman, owner of the exclusive gold coast establishment, that the law desired to have a word with him. Not a cat was drawn. The music continued the even tempo of its way, the dancers trod the floor each according to his lights, and the waiters glided about the tables delivering hot dog sandwiches at $1 per copy.

Not Like Old Raid.

All of which goes to show that the police department has mended its ways since that Sabbath morning last July when fifteen patrol wagons rushed up to the curb and a regiment of coppernosed men stormed the dance floor at 1021 North State street. Eighty-one dinner suited men and forty-one full dressed women—"Smiths" and "Browns" and "Joneses"—all were carted away that night to be registered upon the police roster at the East Chicago avenue station.

Not so last night. Weeghman has heard that there was to be a visitation of the constabulary, and he was waiting down in front. As the gentlemen approached he advanced cordially to meet them.

"Looking for some one?" he inquired. "Yes, sir—for Charlie Weeghman."

Has No License.

A battery of flashlights boomed, and the info dashed around the corner at Weeghman's earnest solicitation. As they ran the sergeants read their message—a summons demanding Charles's presence at the Chicago avenue court Monday morning to explain why he has been operating "The Tent" without a license.

The summons was issued after Assistant Corporation Counsel Leonard Grossman wrote Chief Collins an opinion declaring that, inasmuch as music, entertainment and dancing is sanctioned in between food and drink, an amusement license for the place is necessary. The opinion adds that such a license cannot be issued so long as "The Tent" is housed in a building which is not of "mild, slow burning or fireproof construction."

No Letup in Dancing.

Their summons read the two sergeants departed to the station content in the consciousness of a duty well done.

"The Tent" will operate as usual," said Weeghman, rubbing his hands. "It's just a slight misunderstanding—a mere technicality."

MORE LICENSES GO

One hundred and thirty-two soft drink parlors, drug and grocery stores, and even a "radio" wearing apparel shop, accused by the police of diluting the beer and booze lid, will be padlocked this morning as the result of revocation of their licenses by Mayor Dever yesterday.

Thus far in the campaign against cheating grocers, 1,115 licenses have been revoked.

Hope for the owners of the building housing the banned enterprise is seen in Circuit Judge Philip Sullivan's order that City Clerk Al Gorman issue a retail beverage license to Herman Wolf and Charles Wappel, partners in a restaurant at 155 West Randolph street. In his ruling, Judge Sullivan frowned on Mayor Dever's policy of forbidding the use of a former soft drink parlor for any business as well as "a 'radio' listening" the proprietors.

Little Kathleen Calnan, 11 years old, wound her arms tightly round the neck of her foster mother, Mrs. Charles H. The Knights of Columbus will celebrate with three dances and a banquet, one dance to be held at the White City ballroom, for south side councils; one at Guyon's Paradise, for west side members, and one at the Merry Gardens, for the north side. The banquet is to be given Saturday evening at the Hotel La Salle. Mayor Dever will be a speaker.

House Thief Gets $1,200 in Piano Man's Home

Jewelry and other valuables worth $1,200 were stolen yesterday by a burglar who ransacked the home of August Gostomako, 828 Waveland avenue, a director of the Bush & Gerts Piano company.

Columbus' Anchor on Show.

A feature of the day will be the display of the original anchor used by Columbus, the first ship's anchor to be dropped in an American port, in front of the Wrigley building. It will be carried from Jackson park under auspices of the Chicago Historical society. The anchor was lost by Columbus on his first voyage. From notes in his log, giving its exact location, it was recovered a half century ago.

N. Y. APPELLATE COURT RULES IN DANCER'S FAVOR

New York, Oct. 11.—The appellate division of the Supreme court in Brooklyn today reversed a decision rendered by Justice Tompkins in Nyack in January vesting annulment of the marriage of Evan Burrows Fontaine, a dancer, and Sterling L. Adair.

Justice Tompkins' vacation of the decree on the ground that it had been obtained by fraud in 1929 was made on motion of Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, against whom Miss Fontaine had filed a $1,000,000 breach of promise suit. The suit was dismissed when the annulment was vacated.

The appellate division ruled that Whitney was unable to make application for vacation of the judgment because he had not shown that a legal and equitable right of his had been invaded. The case came up on Miss Fontaine's appeal, although in the meantime Adair had died and Whitney had married Miss Marie Norton of New York in Paris last May.

Miss Fontaine obtained a decree of annulment on the ground that Adair had been previously married and had not been divorced and said the marriage had never been consummated. Whitney was then served by her attorneys with a summons and complaint in an action to recover $1,000,000 for alleged breach of promise to marry.

In an attempt to upset her case Whitney brought the action before Justice Tompkins in Rockland county to have the annulment decree set aside. He was successful in this action, which was based on the ground that the court which granted the decree did not have jurisdiction.

Miss Fontaine's breach of promise suit, which was dismissed after the annulment was vacated, never has been settled in court, and the action of the appellate division today places her in a position where she can proceed to prosecution of her claim against Whitney, lawyers said.

KILLED RACING TO BEAT TRAIN TO A CROSSING

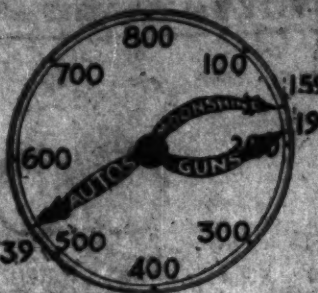

Racing to cross the Wolf road grade crossing, one mile east of Elmhurst, on the Chicago, Aurora and Elgin railroad, a fast train, a truck driver, believed to be John Sullivan of St. Louis, Mo., was fatally injured yesterday when the train wrecked the truck.

Sullivan drove around another truck that had been stopped to let the train pass, in his effort to get across, witnesses said. He died on the way to the Oak Park hospital. A check signed by Mrs. Thomas A. Thies of Chicago Heights was the only paper in his pocket. Several weeks ago a clergyman and his son were killed at the same crossing when their automobile was demolished by an interurban train.

The death also of Harold Dyer, 18, 124 South Ashland avenue, who was fatally injured when he drove his automobile into the rear of a street car at Washington boulevard and Sangamon street, brought the number of motor deaths in Cook county since Jan. 1 to 159.

Jumping from the truck on which he had "hitched" a ride, Richard Moiser, 15, of Elmhurst, was probably fatally injured when he fell beneath the wheels of an automobile following behind the truck. The boy was taken to the West Suburban hospital.

W. C. Stiles, 5452 South Paulina street, was taken into custody last night by Detective Sergeant Noonan and Trant, who had been told he was the driver of the "vampire" car which last Friday night ran down Miss Mae Chaney, 220 East 48th street, at 48th street and Grand boulevard.

Fred Meyer, 79, 6528 South Hermitage avenue, was severely injured when he was struck at Ashland avenue and West 69th street, by a truck driven by Charles Kratochvil, 2718 South Turner avenue, who was held pending the outcome of the aged victim's injuries. Mr. Meyer was taken to Fairview hospital.

REPORTER GETS WISH; IT NEARLY COSTS HIS LIFE

Paul Peter Pomeroy has been a Chicago newspaper reporter for at least fifty years. It is even said he helped "cover" the big fire of 1871.

During this half century "Pom," also widely known as a racketeer official, probably has written hundreds of columns about gunmen, gangsters, and plain stick men, and always he has told his colleagues: "Now, if a fellow could just be there when the bumping off takes place, if he could just see it and really get the 'feel' of the story, what a crackerjack yarn he could turn out!"

About 9:30 a. m. yesterday "Pom" left his home at 4414 Clifton avenue so as to reach his desk at 7 sharp, as usual, at the Associated Press office, where he gets up the report for Illinois papers.

Car Drives to curb. A big limousine drove quickly to the curb, a rough looking gentleman jumped out and placed a gun against the stomach, which extends some inches beyond the rest of Mr. Pomeroy.

"You're O'Connor, ain't you?" he queried, cocking the pistol.

"No, sir, I'm not," answered "Pom," backing away.

"You are—you know damn well you are," snapped back the man behind the gun.

"I'm not, honest I'm not," and Pom's white hair rose just a little.

Denied it thrice. Three times the gunman insisted that Pomeroy be O'Connor and three times it was denied. Then the gentleman of the street convinced himself by examining letters in Pomeroy's pocket.

"You got 'em away from here," he said. "We're looking for a guy named O'Connor to bump him off, and you can be damn glad we didn't shoot and ask questions afterwards."

C. And Pom got, with a mental resolution that during his next fifty years of reporting it will be much nicer to remain on the writing end of gangsters' guns and to get the "feel" of the story without going to the extent of personal contact.

Fines Lawyer for Drumming Up Clients in Courtroom. Strict enforcement of the court rule prohibiting lawyers from soliciting cases in court was promised yesterday by Judge William E. Holander when he fined B. J. Cosman, an attorney, $25 and costs for seeking clients in the courtroom.

"LOAN SHARKING" BY EMPLOYEES IN DUNNING BARED

Fellow-Workers Victims of Usurious Rates.

Male employees were found to be paying 20 and 25 per cent a fractional month interest to small agencies. The loans in an investigation conducted yesterday by Dr. D. D. Coffey, superintendent of the Chicago state hospital for the insane at Dunning, which is under the jurisdiction of Charles H. Johnson, director of the department of public welfare in Gov. Smith's cabinet. The state's system of holding back pay due was given as one condition that made possible the extortion from 44 per month employees.

According to Dr. Coffey, two employees, Horace Smith and Gus Blair, admitted they were doing a thriving "loan shark" business. They were protected against loss. Dr. Coffey said they told him, by taking from the borrower a power of attorney authorizing them to collect the borrower's pay, and this was filed with A. E. Mette, chief clerk of the institution, and he permitted them to then sign the borrower's name to the pay roll and get the check. By this admission, Dr. Coffey said, Smith has more than $500 due from the September salaries of fellow employees and Blair more than $200, which they expect to collect when the September salaries are paid next week.

Coffey Gives Reasons.
It was at first reported to Dr. Coffey that the "loan shark" business amounted to about $2,000 per month, and the institution was that Mette was making a share of the money. He was called to Dr. Coffey's office.

"I realize that I have put myself in that light by issuing the blanks," Mette said. "We have them on hand so that we can pay off a discharge by quitting employee. Usually the borrower comes in and asks for one of the blanks. It is just an accommodation on my part. I never took any money for it."

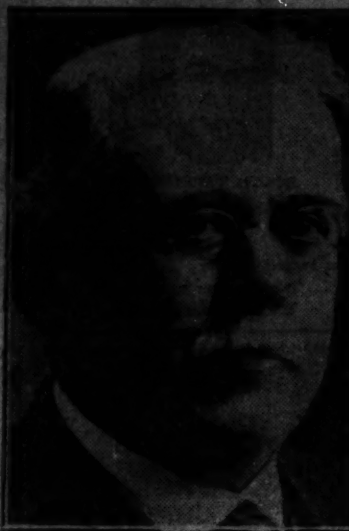

Smith and Blair, questioned by Dr. Coffey without previous opportunity to consult with Mette, agreed that Mette did not share in their profits. Blair said he had offered Mette money for his trouble, but it was refused.

Coffey said that the once a month pay and the delay of from fifteen to twenty days in getting that pay to the employees, on the one hand, and the delayed pay day is due to the large number who are discharged or quit each month, he said. There is a law compelling corporations to pay at least twice monthly, but he said this does not apply to state institutions.

Dr. Coffey said there were only about twenty-one children of employees and officials maintained by the state at the institution. Good standards are hard to get, he said, and the subsequent expense of food and washing for their children is well spent, since their having their children near them keeps the attendants content.

FORD DENOUNCES WEEKS; DEFENDS AID FOR SHOALS

Says Political Influences Caused Rejection.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 11.—Henry Ford's offer for the purchase of the Muscle Shoals project in Alabama is still before congress and will not be withdrawn, Mr. Ford said today, his first public statement since the sale of the Gorgas plant to the Alabama Power company. Mr. Ford charged that political influences were brought to bear to keep him from obtaining the plant and these "same influences prevented a vote in the house last spring."

Mr. Ford's statement says: "The United States government, through Maj. Gen. Lansing H. Beach, asked me to bid on Muscle Shoals, not on a piece of Muscle Shoals. I did so, and because my bid included all of Muscle Shoals it was the only one thought worthy of reporting to congress."

Opens Attack on Weeks. "But I have a very strong conviction that while we have been negotiating with Mr. Weeks we have not been negotiating with the United States government. John W. Weeks repeated assertions that Henry Ford would never get Muscle Shoals, neither with the Gorgas plant nor without it, is evidence that the parties to this matter are not the bidder and the government, but other parties best known to the man who is at present secretary of war."

Says He Hurt Farmers. "This plan was formed by John W. Weeks for the purpose, as he thought, of injuring Henry Ford. Which shows how much a Boston bond broker, in politics for a pastime, knows about industrial problems. But the injury has done more than that. It has landed on the farmers. I was willing to demonstrate at Muscle Shoals that power and fertilizer could be produced at much lower cost than now and that the government could be assured of an adequate supply of war materials."

"Muscle Shoals project would be the greatest munition plant on earth. Muscle Shoals in its nitrate production is our greatest insurance against war, or, if war comes, our greatest assurance of victory—but apparently that does not count with the head of the war department. The Ford Motor company never has needed Muscle Shoals. We have water power sufficient for all our purposes. The only thing I could do at Muscle Shoals which I am not able to do elsewhere would be to make fertilizer."

"And that is the sole reason why

John W. Weeks and scores of corporation lawyers have started their cunning to prevent me. The same influences that prevented a vote in the house last spring are responsible for the sale of the Gorgas plant to prevent a vote on Gorgas."

"They may get other offers for other pieces of Muscle Shoals and the total sales price may compare favorably with the initial payment called for under my offer, but the sales price is the smallest item at Muscle Shoals. Even if the friends of John W. Weeks should pay the original cost, dollar for dollar, Muscle Shoals would still be a complete loss to the people because John W. Weeks' friends will not use it for the public benefit."

West Withdraw Offer. "It would be well worth while for the waterpower and fertilizer financiers who control this situation to pay $100,000,000, if thereby they can regain the endless millions which they now make through exorbitant prices of power and fertilizer."

"My offer is still before congress. I shall not withdraw it. There is nothing that John W. Weeks can explain though he should talk from now until he leaves public life, but I want to say this:

"If I get Muscle Shoals we shall run power for miles in every direction from Muscle Shoals. We have been working and have learned how to send power long distances without losses by leakage. I say this now for the benefit of the international financiers who, with the Alabama Power company, have Muscle Shoals almost hopelessly in their grasp."

PRINCE'S REVOLT PERILS BROTHERS' RULE IN ROUMANIA

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] PARIS, Oct. 11.—(Tribune Radio.)—A strict censorship in Roumania is stifling all news except inspired official communiques concerning the reported discovery of a Fascist revolution in Bucharest.

Private reliable information reaching Paris through secret channels indicates that Premier Jean Bratianu, learning of the growth in strength of the Fascist movement, which was fostered by Crown Prince Charles, decided to the nationalists in Roumania merely were dissatisfied with the Bratianu government, which itself is practically a dictatorship, with the premier's brother, Yenucia Bratianu, as chief of the Roumanian National bank and also minister of finance. Thus, the brother controls the nation absolutely.

Prince Charles is aiding the Fascists because he realizes that unless the Bratianu government is replaced the people are likely to rise in the imminent future and overthrow the monarchy and establish a soviet or republic.

More than 100 persons arrested are held without hearings, it is reported. Prince Charles is aiding the Fascists because he realizes that unless the Bratianu government is replaced the people are likely to rise in the imminent future and overthrow the monarchy and establish a soviet or republic.

EXPERT'S LAWYER BALKS AT QUIZ; CITES PRIVILEGE

Lyons Also Slows Inquiry,
Reports State.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Matthew Conannon, attorney for the late Austin J. Lyons, a Thompson-Lord building expert, and Ernest H. Lyons, a real estate expert of the same crowd, are said to have retarded the grand jury investigation of the $2,742,000 expert fee grab last night.

Conannon pleaded a privileged relation between lawyer and client as a sufficient reason for not answering certain questions. It is understood. One of these questions is said to have concerned the safety deposit vaults where the valuables and papers of "experts" were kept.

While technically Lyons' lawyer, Conannon pleaded the case of all the experts in this Tribune suit to recover the money paid them, and also in proceedings before the internal revenue bureau involving the income taxes of the experts.

Jury Issues on Return.
It was said that Conannon did not return point blank to answer the questions, but asserted that he could show Assistant Attorney General W. F. MacCracken Jr. legal decisions to prove that the answers to certain questions are privileged. He was permitted to submit his authorities, but the grand jury insisted that he return last night next Wednesday evening.

This, he objected, and finally appealed to Chief Justice John R. Carter, saying he had not had a vacation in three years and had planned to go away next Monday. The judge acquiesced and the grand jury adjourned, leaving him to be on hand next Wednesday.

Lyons was before the grand jury only a few minutes. The short session is said to have been caused by his failure to produce his books for the inspection of the attorney general's staff in time to permit them to ask the questions they desired. Another report was that he had not delivered all his books.

Roger Faherty Is Witness.

Roger Faherty was another witness from whom the jurors did not get as much information as they had anticipated, although it was reported he had made one admission of value. Roger is a son of Michael J. Faherty, former president of the board of local improvements, who lived the experts. Roger was a special attorney under his father and his fees were large for so young a lawyer.

The jurors did obtain some important information from a representative of the Foreman National bank regarding the accounts of one expert, the depositor and withdrawal.

James B. Gosselin, deputy city controller, gave much information regarding vouchers and warrants which the experts received and cashed. He is understood to have been asked a number of questions intended to show by what authority payments were made to experts from alleged irregular appropriations.

John J. Sloan, present head of the board of local improvements, and David J. Hayes, an attorney who has been investigating for Sloan, told the jurors they had been unable to find large amounts of the work done by the experts. Apparently the experts have retained much of the data, plans, and drawings on which they made their evaluations, although all these documents are supposed to be the property of the city.

The records of the Circuit court in the suit of the Tribune to recover the fees paid to the experts were taken to the jury room. The purpose of this was not learned.

OIL AND COPPER HOLD INTEREST

BY O. A. MATHER.

The situation of the oil and coal industries again occupied attention in the financial markets yesterday. There was some evidence that the petroleum industry is correcting a production, this was offset by reports that several more companies will be financed in order to carry over stocks through the winter.

For the fourth consecutive week there was a decline in petroleum output. The average gross production was 2,157 barrels during the week ended Oct. 6, a decline of $2,385 barrels from the

The copper industry reported a decline in demand and an increase in supply.

The output of refined copper in September was about 300,000,000 pounds. Decline of 2,500,000 pounds from August but an increase of 22,500,000 pounds on July. Copper stocks increased about 6,000,000 pounds in September, being about 250,000,000 pounds on Oct. 1, or about six weeks' supply at the September rate.

The directors of the Southern railway yesterday gave both hope and disappointment to the common stock holders. They had asked that dividends on the common stock be considered. The directors discussed the question, but decided

The directors of the Pacific Coast company refused to declare dividends on first and second preferred stocks, although the stockholders passed a resolution demanding that $238,751 net asset for depreciation during the last year be set aside for the purpose of paying a dividend. The directors ascribed the decision to desire to protect the bondholders and to build up depreciation reserves.

It was reported the directors of the Santa Alegre sugar company have decided to place the stock on a 12 annual dividend basis at a meeting next Monday.

NEW YORK STOCK TRANSACTIONS

By O. A. MATHER.

The situation of the oil and copper industries again occupied attention of the financial markets yesterday. While there was some evidence that the petroleum industry is correcting overproduction, this was offset by reports that several companies will need to be financed in order to carry storage stocks through the winter.

For the four consecutive week, there was a decline in petroleum output. Daily average production was 2,197,400 barrels during the week ended Oct. 6, a decline of 52,500 barrels from the preceding week. The decline was divided into 2,800 barrels each of the Rocky mountains and 20,000 barrels in California. Daily average production of California crude oil at Atlantic and Gulf coast ports declined 41,200 barrels, while imports also showed a slight decline.

Copper Demands Shaken.

The copper industry reported a slackening in demand and an increase in stock on hand. The price of copper yesterday sagged to 17 1/2 cents a pound. Shipments of copper, foreign and domestic, by American producers totalled about 100,000 pounds, or 43,000 pounds less than in August and 7,000 pounds less than in July. The larger part of the decrease was in domestic shipments.

The output of refined copper in September was about 200,000 pounds, a decline of 3,000 pounds from August, but an increase of 22,000 pounds over July. Copper stocks increased about 40,000 pounds in September, being about 200,000 pounds more than in August and 7,000 pounds more than in July. The larger part of the increase was in domestic shipments.

Delay Southern Railway Dividend.

The directors of the Southern Railway yesterday gave both hope and disappointment to the common stock holders, who had asked that dividends on the common stock be continued. The directors discussed the question, but decided to postpone further consideration until next March, when the earnings figures for this year will be available.

Money Is Still Easy.

Autumn trade and crop moving is being financed easily and there is no evidence of any "tightening of money" in the near future. The weekly report of the Federal Reserve system shows a cancellation of the greater part of the preceding week's expansion in loans, which was largely a consequence of 4,000,000 new government bonds being sold at continuously increasing rates of credit.

The consolidated statement of the twelve banks shows a decline of $11,944,000, while bills declined $3,125,000, government securities $3,250,000, and savings bonds $1,000,000. Gold and total reserves were $14,644,000 and $5,923,000, respectively. Deposits fell $20,425,000, with member bank reserve credits declining $2,100,000. Note circulation increased $1,700,000. The ratio of reserves to deposits rose 0.71 from 75.5 per cent at the preceding week.

The situation of the oil and copper industries again occupied attention of the financial markets yesterday. While there was some evidence that the petroleum industry is correcting overproduction, this was offset by reports that several companies will need to be financed in order to carry storage stocks through the winter.

For the four consecutive week, there was a decline in petroleum output. Daily average production was 2,197,400 barrels during the week ended Oct. 6, a decline of 52,500 barrels from the preceding week. The decline was divided into 2,800 barrels each of the Rocky mountains and 20,000 barrels in California. Daily average production of California crude oil at Atlantic and Gulf coast ports declined 41,200 barrels, while imports also showed a slight decline.

Copper Demands Shaken.

The copper industry reported a slackening in demand and an increase in stock on hand. The price of copper yesterday sagged to 17 1/2 cents a pound. Shipments of copper, foreign and domestic, by American producers totalled about 100,000 pounds, or 43,000 pounds less than in August and 7,000 pounds less than in July. The larger part of the decrease was in domestic shipments.

The output of refined copper in September was about 200,000 pounds, a decline of 3,000 pounds from August, but an increase of 22,000 pounds over July. Copper stocks increased about 40,000 pounds in September, being about 200,000 pounds more than in August and 7,000 pounds more than in July. The larger part of the increase was in domestic shipments.

Delay Southern Railway Dividend.

The directors of the Southern Railway yesterday gave both hope and disappointment to the common stock holders, who had asked that dividends on the common stock be continued. The directors discussed the question, but decided to postpone further consideration until next March, when the earnings figures for this year will be available.

Money Is Still Easy.

Autumn trade and crop moving is being financed easily and there is no evidence of any "tightening of money" in the near future. The weekly report of the Federal Reserve system shows a cancellation of the greater part of the preceding week's expansion in loans, which was largely a consequence of 4,000,000 new government bonds being sold at continuously increasing rates of credit.

The consolidated statement of the twelve banks shows a decline of $11,944,000, while bills declined $3,125,000, government securities $3,250,000, and savings bonds $1,000,000. # Ruth's Homers Give Yanks 4 to 2 Win Over Giants—Cubs Take Second Game from White Sox

WHEN CASEY STENGEL'S HOME RUN WON THE GAME. They call him "Old Casey," and the Yanks were unafraid when he came to bat in the last of the ninth with the score tied 4 to 4. Casey clouted one of Bush's fast ones for a homer. When he reached the plate his creaky legs gave way and he sat down. The Giants players are seen cheering their hero. (Story on page one.) SOME OF THE BLEACHERITES AT WORLD SERIES. More than 55,000 baseball fans attended the opening of the championship struggle now being waged by the Yanks and Giants. The remarkable thing about the crowd was not its vastness, but the ease with which it was accommodated at the Yankee stadium. (Story on page one.) (Underwood & Underwood Photo.)

WHEN BECKETT WENT DOWN. Georges Carpentier's wallop may not have Dempsey but it knocked out Joe Beckett in the first round of recent fight in England. (United Photo.)

THOUSANDS ATTEND FUNERAL RITES FOR SLAIN PRIEST. Ukrainians from other cities joined Chicago's colony yesterday in attendance upon the funeral services for the Rev. Basil Stepanuk who was murdered by the wife of another priest as he knelt in the sanctuary of his church. Services were held at the St. Nicholas church at Rice street and Oakley boulevard. SOX HOPES FADE. With Mostil on third with the tying run, Eddie Collins came in the last of the ninth yesterday. Grantham threw him out and the Cubs annexed the game by a 4 to 3 count. (Story on page twenty-five.) (Tribune Photo.)

TOURING THE PROVINCES. Lloyd George received an enthusiastic welcome when he visited West Mount, Canada. He turned the sod for the new Baptist church in that town. (Pacific and Atlantic Photo.) (Story on page two.)

BY JAMES CRUSHBERRY.
Brute Force not only deserted the Yankees today but switched over to the Giants and helped them beat the Huggins outfit in the third game of the series. On the other hand, Old Man Strategy kept out of the combat entirely.

In other words, there was a great pitching duel staged between Art Nehf of McCraw's team and Sad Sam Jones of the Yanks, and if Brute Force had not stepped in and taken a hand the two might have labored until darkness dropped the battle. As it was, the Charlie won, 1 to 0, because Brute Force made a pal out of Casey Stengel, who slammed a home run into the right field bleachers in the seventh for the only tally of the game.

Casey the Hero.
So far Casey is leading hero of the series, his homer in the last inning of the first game bringing victory to the Giants and his homer today being the only successful attack of the contest.

The Yanks might have had a chance had they been able to keep Brute Force out. Strategy, but they slunk through, with no luck and no outside help, and as they have showed time and again in the past they do not know how to win a ball game when they are required to do something more than try to knock the cover off the ball.

It was a game that required more common sense than strategy, because it was a battle for one run all the way. Stengel, with one grand wallop, won the one run and the Giants won, though they did not begin to have the chance that were opened to them.

Giants Get 4 Hits.
All told, the Giants made only four hits. One of the four was Stengel's homer, which was simply a long fly that barely cleared the screen in front of first base. Only two other Giants got as far as second base during the contest.

The Yanks made six hits and had four good openings to count, but couldn't produce the necessary punch. Twice their openings were killed by double plays on the part of the snappy Giant infielders. Once Heinie Groh made a scuffling stop of a smash-hit red hot grounder that was meant to be a two-bagger. It would have wrecked the game, but Heinie made good in the crisis.

Manager Theobald Orders.
But the greatest opportunity the Yankees had to break up the game was ruined when one member of the team disobeyed the orders of Manager Huggins. It occurred in the fourth inning, before the Yankees batted what they were up against. Joe Judge had hit off with a scorching run bagger that indicated the start of one of the big innings. The Yankees were being rallied. Heinie was given a good ball to hit and walked. Two were on and a run out, and Bob Mason was coming in.

When the game was over, George Stengel said that Huggins had been ordered by Manager Huggins to get out and beat out the runner. The manager, however, was not in the game.
